Spirit, Loyalty Keep Community Redskin Conscious

Manual's members of Roundtable, a city-wide discussion group interested in schools' problems, are Retha Narmore, Mr. Fred Jones, sponsor; Kathy Stodgill, Tim McCoy, Linda Hathaway, Carol Biggers, Bev Narmore, and Gary Mills.

Manualites made a splash in both city and local community through competition and communication.

Manual loyalty carries on year after year as was shown by the annual birthday party in February, attended by more than 400 alums.

Both Roines and Masoma have active alumni groups, and many "old" Lettermen attend games.

Through our Human Relations Forum and the city-wide Roundtable, students became informed and expressed themselves on integration and other school problems.

The competitive spirit of Manualites showed up well when they participated in contests. Their winnings show talents being well-used.

Reporter Anne Maschmeyer interviews Mr. Norman G. Wilson for the Booster about his "Alumnus of the Year" award.

Janice Stokes and Terry Bonner speak at a Human Relations Forum-Student Assembly meeting. The Human Relations Forum was initiated this year to allow students and teachers a chance to voice their feelings on school problems.

Manual's band prepares to "take off" at the Central Indiana Marching Contest. It received a "First Division" rating for marching to a medley of song selections on "Love."

Kathy Wakefield and Lynn Janke admire the many awards the Booster has won from Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge.

Double Scholastic "Gold Key" winners, Connie Hill and Pat Walker, admire some of Pat's sculptural macramé.

Rob Stone instructs Manual "Exercise in Knowledge" members Phil Wyss, Lynn Janke, Marnie Maxwell, and Mark Koenig.

Homecoming Draws Crowds of Redskins, Young and Old

Though rain threatened to dampen the spirit for the nineteenth Homecoming celebration, many Redskins and Manual alumni attended the traditional festivities. Seniors Susie Marcum and Glen Shake were crowned Homecoming royalty during halftime by the retiring Queen and King, Cinda and Wayne Shaw. Pitted against Southport, the 'Skins lost the battle after remaining scoreless until the last quarter of play.

Candidates arrived in open convertibles and circled the field, while the Redskin Marching Band, under Mr. William D. Kleyla and Drum Major Jay Doty, performed marching maneuvers on the field. Two freshmen football players rolled out the white carpet for candidates to walk on and Indian papooses carried the crowns. Mrs. Martha Cross led the Girls' Glee Club in "Girl of my Dreams."

Freshmen Papooses Daniel Outlaw and Deborah May bear the jeweled crowns used to adorn the new King and Queen.

Norman Leonard executes a pass as a Southport defender dives for a tackle.

Members of the Girls' Glee Club sing "Girl of my Dreams" as homecoming Queen Susie Marcum and King Glen Shake promenade down the white carpet to their car.

Queen Susie Marcum bursts into tears from joy and excitement as she is crowned by Cindy Eva, the retiring queen. King Glen Shake stands waiting to escort his queen down the white carpet to their waiting convertible for a trip around the track to receive the accolades of all Manualites.

Vice-principal E. Franklin Fisher shows his turnabout, James Hoosier, "the ropes."

Auditorium Manager Carl Wright and his turnabout, Stage Manager Mike Jones, teach a Stage Craft class. Many students took teachers' places on Turnabout Day.

AEW 'Helps Schools Bridge Gap' With 'Turnabout' and Open House

Mrs. Marilyn Hathaway, P-TA president, and her daughter, Linda, visit Miss Carolyn Griffin, Linda's English teacher. Open House was Wednesday night of AEW.

American Education Week occurred during the week of October 25. Theme for this annual event was "Help Schools Bridge the Gap."

The theme was carried out at Manual through posters and PA announcements all week. The annual Turnabout Day saw many students taking the place of teachers and "running" their classrooms. Teachers and turnabouts were invited to an after-school tea in the library.

Open House Night gave parents and teachers a chance to "bridge the gap" and become better acquainted. First six-weeks grading period ended before AEW, giving parents and teachers the opportunity to discuss grades. Also at Open House, the P-TA enlisted new members at the doors.

For Manualites, highlight of the week was the naming of Mr. Howard Thrall principal. Prior to AEW, he had been acting principal.

Interested Parents Back Manualites with Time, Earnings

Mrs. Nathan Wooden and Mrs. James Maschmeyer perform a skit at a meeting.

Manual's Parent-Teacher Association and Dads Club support school activities in person as well as with money they earn through their many money-making projects.

P-TA members, approximately 30 at a time, serve in the three refreshment stands at all home football games, providing typical grid fare of hot dogs, cokes, coffee, and candy bars. Much money is made while keeping fans happy.

April 28, the P-TA-sponsored Pow Wow was in the gym. P-TA mothers worked in booths, served dinner, and counted ballots for the Pow Wow King and Queen. Many school clubs participated at this annual event to earn money.

The P-TA helped pay for new Glee Club robes, cheerleader outfits, workshops, and scholarships.

The active Dads Club mans the concession stands in the gym during basketball season. Selling cold drinks, ice cream, and candy to thirsty, hungry Manual rooters helps the "Dads" meet their budget.

Mrs. James Maschmeyer serves football fans at the afternoon Ritter contest. Many P-TA members serviced the refreshment booths at all home grid games.

'Bye Bye Birdie' Provides Good 'Showcase' for Musicians

Claudette Smith applies stage make-up to Felicia Bailey for the musical show.

The Manual Music Department featured the hit comedy, "Bye Bye Birdie," as its musical production this year. In November, preliminaries for the musical began with members of the Choir, Glee Clubs, and Chorus classes auditioning for both speaking and singing roles.

After parts were cast, rehearsals began. These rehearsals constituted two weeks of intense practice and work before the production's two engagements, November 19 and 20.

On stage, the leads worked on blocking and lines with Mr. Fred Bennett, director. Meanwhile, in the choir room the rest of the cast and chorus sang diligently under Mr. Thomas William's direction. Eventually, the two combined for full rehearsals, putting all of the pieces of the show together.

The stage crew worked hard under Auditorium Manager Carl Wright's supervision. They experimented with lighting and prepared all of the sets and props used. In the orchestra room and the auditorium pit, the pit orchestra, directed by Mr. Thomas Dick, practiced and perfected all of the songs needed to accompany the cast.

The make-up crew learned the skills of applying stage make-up. At the dress rehearsal, the night before the first engagement, they "worked the actors over." Doing this, they discovered what type of make-up should be used on the players to create the contrasting effects of age and youth.

The cast and costume committee worked together to find the many different types of costumes worn.

Friday, November 19, finally arrived. The whole cast felt the excitement and "butterflies" mounting, coming to a crescendo that night at curtain time. Running true to form, the talented Manual showmen presented another successful and entertaining Musical.

Joyce Stull and Glenda Stenger lovingly recite the Conrad Birdie pledge.

In the scene Telephone Hour, adults as well as teens converse about the newly announced steadies — Hugo and Kim. All phones in Sweetapple, Ohio, are busy.

Rosie Alvarez, played by Becky Hill, dances as she sings "Spanish Rose."

The McAfee family is grouped in their kitchen, discussing Conrad. Seated is Mark Koenig, and standing are Cheri Watson, Glenda Stenger, and Bob Watness.

Carol Williams reminds her son (David Blythe) of her bad heart condition.

A group of townspeople meet at the Sweetapple Train Station to greet Conrad (Steve Christian) as Rosie (Becky Hill) and Albert (David Blythe) look on.

Stage and PA Combine for All-school Convocations

Assisting with "Gymnastics Made Easy," an assembly program by Bud and Edna Jeffery, are Linda Stansbury, Carol Williams, Fred Murray, and Charlie Johnson.

Working with a guest speaker, Mr. Frank Bizzarro, during an aud program on Ecology are David Baumann, Rod Gilley, Randy Johnson, and Jeannette Mullen.

Auditorium programs were few and far between this year because of Manual's "exploded" population. Two sessions couldn't accommodate everyone. Juniors and seniors attended in person while underclassmen listened in home rooms by PA.

Two assemblies in the gym enabled everyone to see a couple of "fun" shows, but acoustics there make other programs impossible.

Aud programs included the Tee-Pee Talent Parade, for which Redskins volunteered to perform; a Christmas music concert, which closed with the "Hallelujah Chorus"; a reformed drug addict, who shared his life's story; a National Honor Society pledge ceremony, and two athletic awards days.

Fire-twirler Dawne Biro performs spectacularly for TeePee Talent Parade.

Military Ball Queen and her court, the other senior sponsors, line up for an Ivian photograph: H/C Cpt. Mary Merritt, C/Maj. Steve Brown, H/C Cpt. Becky Hendricks, C/LtC. Scot Price, H/C LtC. Linda Clark, C/Maj. Dave Blythe, H/C 1st Lt. Gwen Maxey, C/1st Lt. Wendell Ware, H/C Maj. Debbie Westerfield, and C/1st Lt. Don Dolph.

Cafeteria Converts to Dance Hall for 'Fun' Occasions

Dances offered occasional diversions on the school scene.

The Ivian-sponsored "Pic Parade" and "John Henry Hop" gave underclassmen a chance to swap pictures and sign yearbooks.

The SAB after-game dances encouraged sports fans to socialize with their many friends.

Raines Romps attracted teenagers who enjoy today's rock music. Lights and movement created a vibrant atmosphere at these events.

On March 4, ROTC cadets and their dates danced in the Manual cafeteria at the Military Ball. H/C LtC. Linda Clark was crowned Queen of this annual event.

Principal Howard C. Thrall crowns Linda Clark Queen of the Military Ball as Police Chief Winston Churchill and ROTC Commandant James McDaniel stand by.

Marcia Goodin and Jerry Goss reign as Queen and King of Ivian's "Pic Parade."

Well-balanced Revue Delights Enthusiastic Audience

Becky Kellenberger, Carol Komann, Nancy Ellis, Joni Kriese (front), Cindy Heacox, Jan Napier, Darlene Hassler, and Vicki Holland make up the Redskin Revue chorus line. The Revue line opens and closes the show with their dance routine.

A successful forty-third Redskin Revue hit Manual's stage March 24 and 25. The acts followed a theme "Holidays Around the World."

This year's winning act, "Summer of 72," was written by Junior Beth Mullen and Sophomore John Smith. "Best Male Vocalist," Junior Charlie Wolfe; "Best Chorus Line," and "Best Choreographer," Senior Pam Wittenbring, were in this act.

"Best Actress," Senior Kathy Mauler, and "Vignette Award" winner, Senior Herb Taylor, were from the act "Gone with the Sawdust," written by Seniors Jeannette Bair, Mark Koenig, and Joyce Stull.

Senior Rod Bruce won "Best Actor" and Junior David Sease took the "Best Comic." Both were leads in the act "Support Your Local Quack," written by Sophomores Tom Pinner and Stephanie Cook.

"Goodbye Columbus, Hello World," by Seniors Leslie Allee and Mary Merritt, had the "Best Female Vocalist," Glenda Stenger.

Co-chairmen Carol Williams and Dan Nye introduced co-chairmen Susie Moore and Charlie Wolfe.

Redskin Revue Sponsors — Mr. Dennis Golay, Mr. James Walker, Miss Dorothy Powell, Mr. Carsey Gentry, Mr. Wayne Spinks, and Mrs. Shirley Martz — talk with Revue Coordinator Fred Bennett. Sponsors worked closely with act writers to improve scripts and direct staging of the acts. Not present are Mrs. Maureen Madden and Mr. Michael Coffman, also sponsors.

As Trophies Divide Up among the Four Acts' 'Bests'

John Smith and Beth Mullen wrote the spirited winning act, "Summer of '72."

The cast of "Summer of '72" sings its finale number, a parody to "Joy to the World." This group won the award for "Best Act" and for "Best Chorus Line" along with trophies for "Best Choreography" and "Best Male Vocalist."

Minicourses Create 'Change of Pace' for English Pupils

Mr. Estell's English 7g class members take time to work on their own during class. All college-bound seniors study four years of English instead of the required three. Senior English prepares students well for college-level study.

Orientation, Histlish, Speech, Etymology, and Humanities make up special classes in Manual's well-organized English Department. Regular classes teach English grammar and composition as well as an appreciation of literature.

New to Manual this year were the Minicourses which provided a "break" in several regular English classes. Some 550 Manualites participated in the courses for two weeks after Christmas vacation and then again in May. Students designated choices from a list of proposed courses, and each was given his first choice, if possible. Students attended during their regularly assigned English periods. Some sessions included were Folk Stories in Song, Mythology, Black Literature, Drama, Bib'e, Love in Literature.

Manual Manuscripts, published for the eleventh time, contained poetry, essays, and short stories from all grade levels.

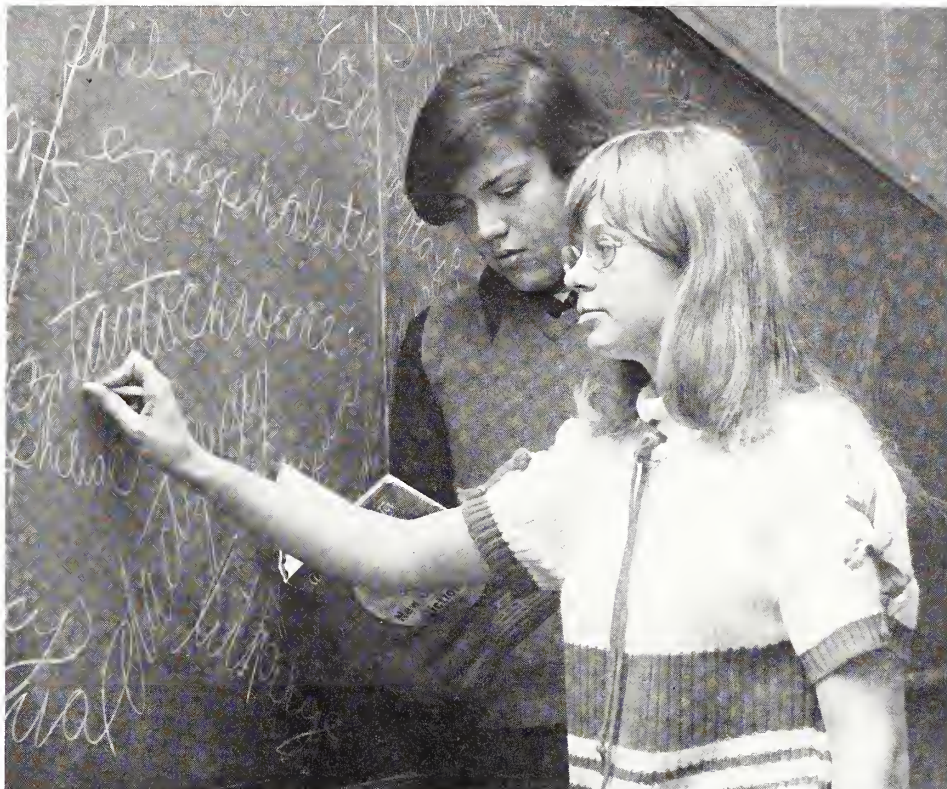

Senior Karlow Tutt explains the importance of listening during a debate situation in his Speech class, taught by Mr. Carl Wright.

Mrs. Dorothy Linke, reading consultant for the Indianapolis school system, teaches reading to Orientation classes.

Diana Weaver points out a word to Dennis Myrick who checks the dictionary to see if it is a "real" word. Etymology classes cover the blackboard with their own words created from the Greek and Latin roots they study under Miss Carolyn Griffin.

Studious Redskins found Manual's well-equipped library with its numerous reference sources, many volumes of books, and cassette tapes a good place to study, both during the day and after school.

Our library, with its new reader printer machine, also aided students and teachers in project READ, which emphasized all reading.

The READ program also stressed the importance of vocabulary usage by employing high interest and low readability materials needed for slow learners. Thirteen English teachers devoted at least one period a day to the READ program helping individuals or small groups with reading difficulties.

The reading lab, with its speed-reading films and shadowscopes, proved to be helpful to both Orientation and Reading students by increasing their skills.

Many Manual students utilize the excellent library facilities during all periods of day.

Miss Helen Negley demonstrates the new reader-printer machine to Junior Marilyn Sadler and Freshman Pam Hill.

Students Gain Cultural Insight Through Language, Social Studies

Three foreign languages — Spanish, French, and Latin — are being offered at Manual. The largest number of linguistic scholars enroll in Spanish — for a minimum of two years. Students in advanced Spanish are exposed to Spanish literature.

Because of the expanding French enrollment, a “new” teacher, Mr. John Krueger of the Social Studies Department, was recruited to teach a beginning French class.

Students enrolled in Latin, as in other foreign language classes, study grammar and learn lists of vocabulary, while also delving into the culture of ancient Rome.

This year, the Social Studies Department added a new class, Metropolitan Problems. “Metro” gives the qualities that an effective city should have and shows how people can influence their city.

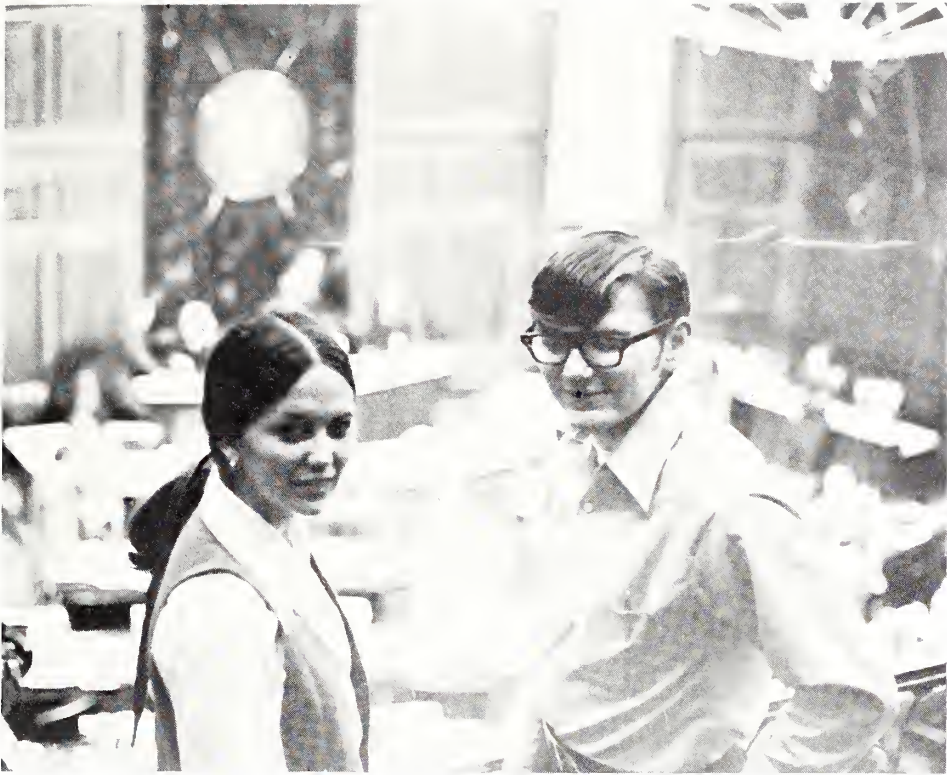

World History offers a look into the past. Citizenship trains for just that. Students enrolled in Psychology study personality, heredity, and behavior. Seniors, interested in teaching, can participate in Exploratory Teaching.

All Manualites are required to study United States History as juniors, and Economics and United States Government as seniors.

A language class listens to tapes in the Language Lab. In addition to tapes, the lab is also used by the Latin, Spanish, and French classes for movies.

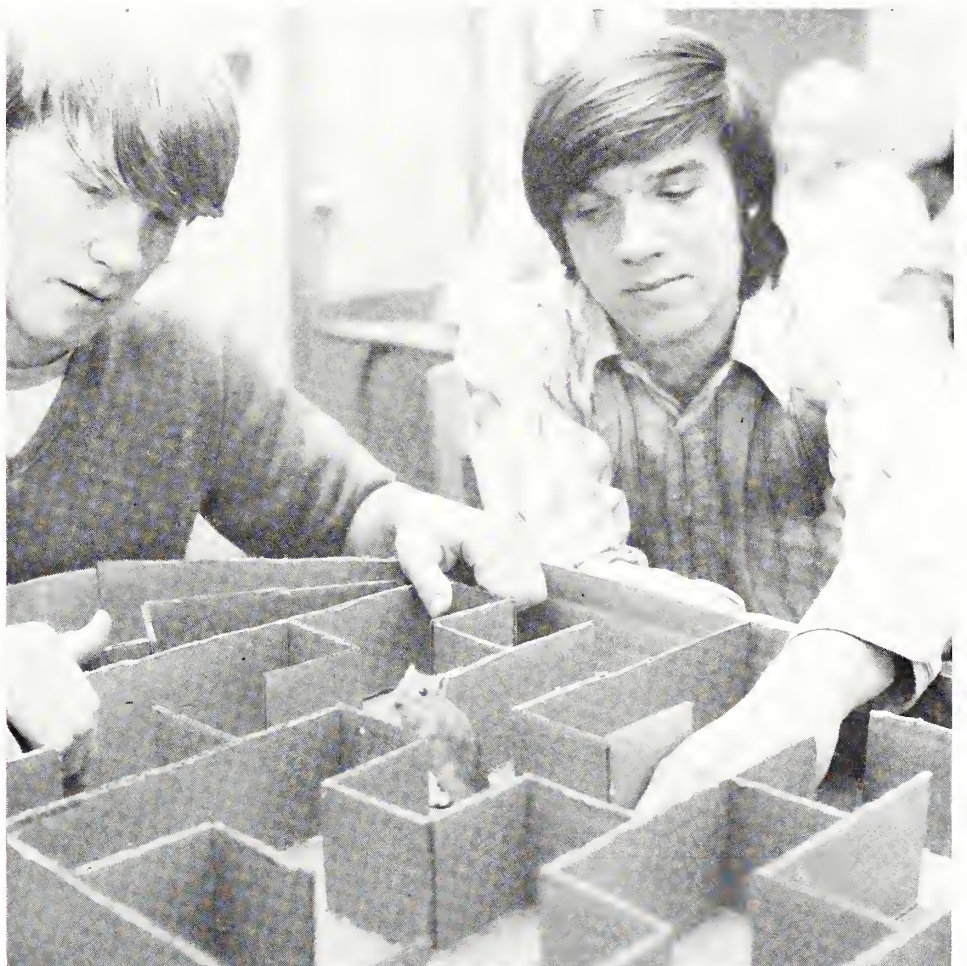

Mr. David Phillips records Marla Ground, Walter Lamperski, and Larry Hathaway.

Marsha Haase and Steve Brown observe the Indiana State Legislature from the balcony. Several government classes spent time at the State House learning the processes bills go through before being submitted for the Governor's signature.

United States History student, Rick Bailly, points to the Rocky Mountain area.

Mike Kemp and Keith Klingler clock the time it takes a gerbil to go through a maze. Psychology classes studied the part repetition plays in forming habits.

Inquisitive Minds Employ Math, Science Fundamentals

Earth Science students Terry Willis, Joe Farley, Trudy Clark, and Becky Adkins plot the paths the glaciers took when cutting across North America.

Math and science principles go "hand in glove" and courses in both areas pile on each other to bring majors in these fields to an understanding of their concepts.

However, all headed for graduation must satisfactorily complete a year in both fields of study.

A student begins his math stint with general math or algebra, and if a student elects, he may continue through geometry, advanced algebra, trigonometry, analytical geometry, and calculus.

The science requirement for all students is biology which deals with the form and way of life of living things. Students learn to use the microscope, and employ dissection techniques in lab work.

The advanced math courses lend themselves helpfully in chemistry and physics classes. Chemistry students gain insight to the composition of matter and the nature of chemical change, while physics students explore energy forms and their effects upon matter.

Bob Watness, Bob Crawford, and Mike Graham, Physics students, calculate the range of an arrow. They have already figured out what the range should be by using Trigonometry. Now, they are testing to see if their calculations are correct.

Gary Deupree, Laura Kriese, Beth Carlton, and Phil Wyss punch tapes for storing information in a computer.

Freshmen Candy Kirk and Billy Biggers match wits at the board in working Algebra I problems during class.

Mrs. Betty Warner tests David Cravens and Theresa Achgill on the parts of the dissected earthworm. After the worm, students move on to clams, crayfish, frogs, and finally, fish. Although many Sophomores dread "cutting up" these specimens, all seem to enjoy it to varying degrees.

Art, Music Enrich Cultural Backgrounds of Students

Vanessa Anderson steadies the stand so Keel McGavock can get a better look at "Bonesy." Art students use "live" models to sketch some of their pictures.

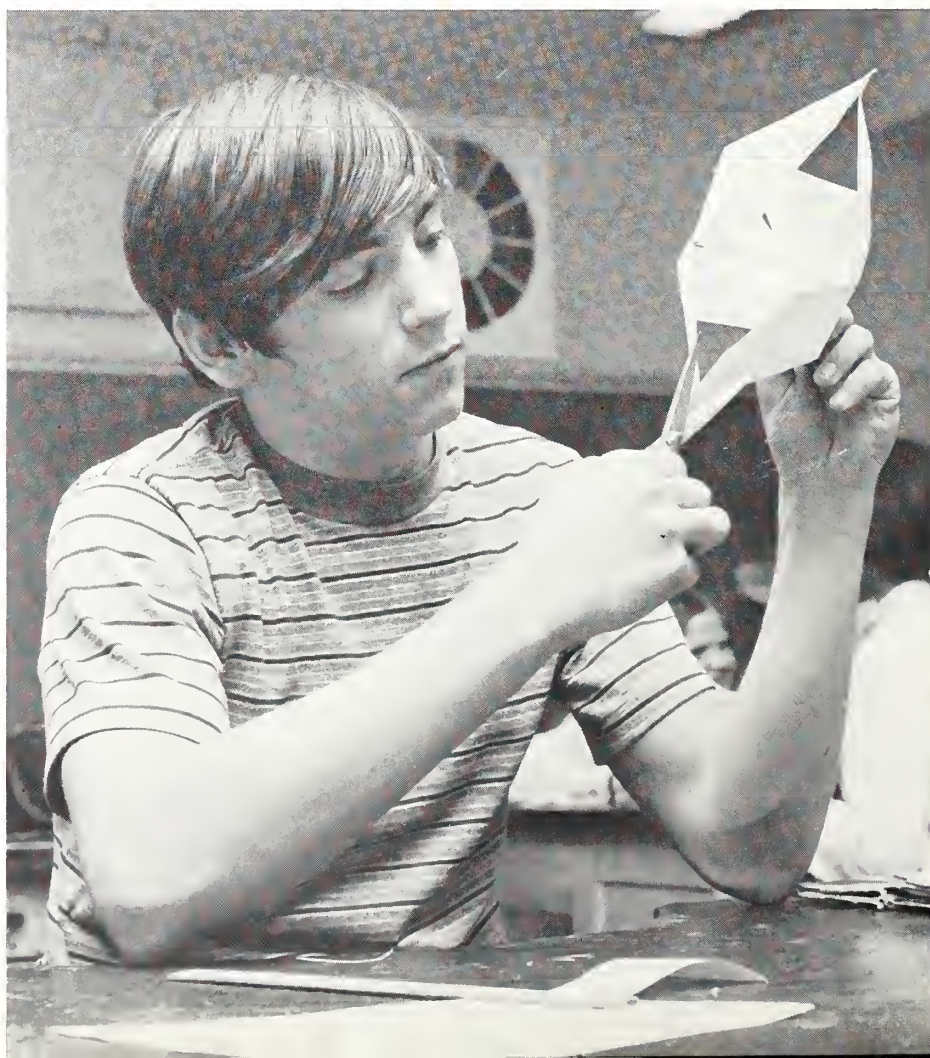

The Art and Music Departments combine to fulfill student's cultural needs. The Art Department offers many courses that widen students' minds. The Art major starts in Art 1 learning the basics and progresses to Art 8 where he works on his own. In Craft Art, students create macreme, rugs, and pottery. Commercial Art mixes business and art. Learning to appreciate artists and styles is the aim of Art Appreciation. All Art classes, including Jewelry, exhibit their products in the hallway showcases.

Manual's chorus classes provide experience in rhythm and harmony for students who enjoy singing. As a student's ability increases, he may move up to Choir or Glee Clubs. Choir members may try for Manualaires, a special group. Band and Orchestra help instrumentalists to harmonize music and to perform. Music Theory gives music majors the "mathematics of music."

Diana Suttner studies the cylinders and cones before starting her drawing.

Keith Smith trims a three-dimensional figure he is making in Craft Arts class. Craft Art students work with many materials, such as leather and plastic.

Drum Major Jay Doty directs the Band during their contest show, "Love."

The violin section of the orchestra practices for a coming program. The orchestra performs for the all-school honors day and the Choir-Orchestra Concert.

Members of the percussions class practice runs to improve drumming skills.

A portion of the Boys' Glee Club practices under the direction of Mr. Thomas Williams. Boys' Glee Club performed with the Choir in the Christmas program.

Debra Hammons gets her weight checked by Mrs. Ruth Albro, school nurse.

Home Economics Classes Develop Helpful Practices for Homemaking

Home Economics classes help prepare students for the future by instructing them in several fields. The arts of cooking and sewing are taught on all grade levels. These courses let students expand in understanding and skills.

Foods classes learn to prepare tasty and practical menus. They are taught to cook within a budget and to consider nutrition. Advanced classes prepare luncheons and provide refreshments for teas.

Meals were served several times during the year by advanced pupils. Faculty members, free during the period a meal was served, were invited to attend. Brunches, lunches, and dinners provided the girls with experience in planning, preparing, and serving for guests.

Students interested in expanding their wardrobes with their own creations learn the necessary skills in Clothing classes. As new techniques are learned, students progress from simple skirts to coats and evening wear, even making swim suits.

Social Practice, a course for freshmen, strives to assist girls in social etiquette and social relationships. Understanding people and problems is taught in Family Living. Home Management takes in consumer education and home decorating. Senior girls learn nursing, nutrition, and special diets in Home Nursing, a required course.

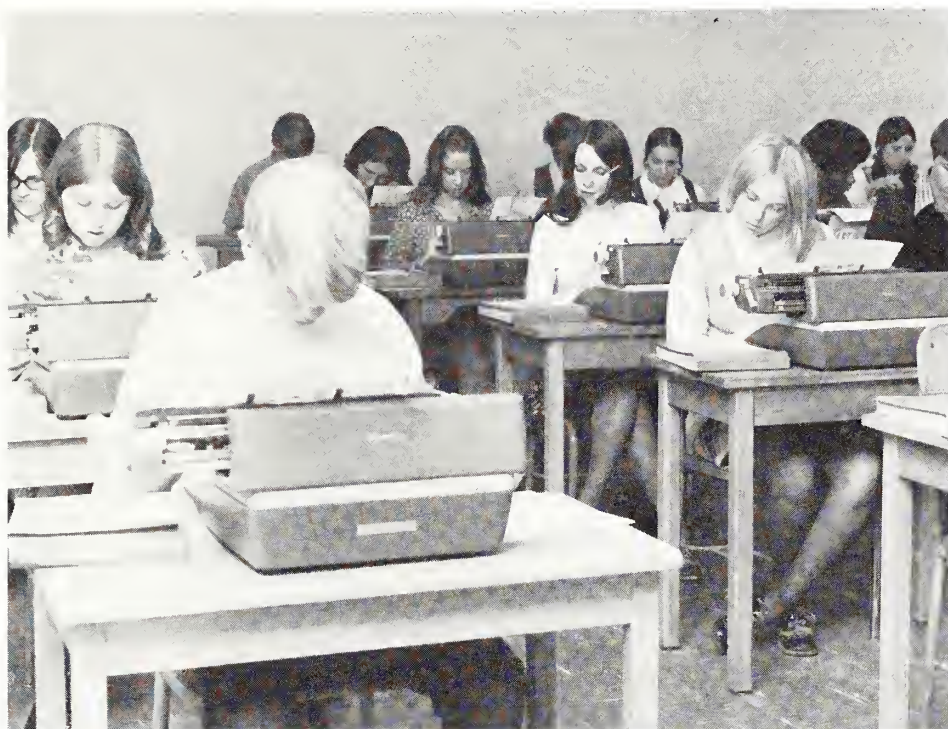

Becky Salyers pins the seam line she will sew as Sharlit Brumley examines her materials. Sewing students receive grades in workmanship as well as neatness.

Marilyn Stout places her carefully-prepared casserole in the oven.

Most Manualites Find Uses for Business Courses

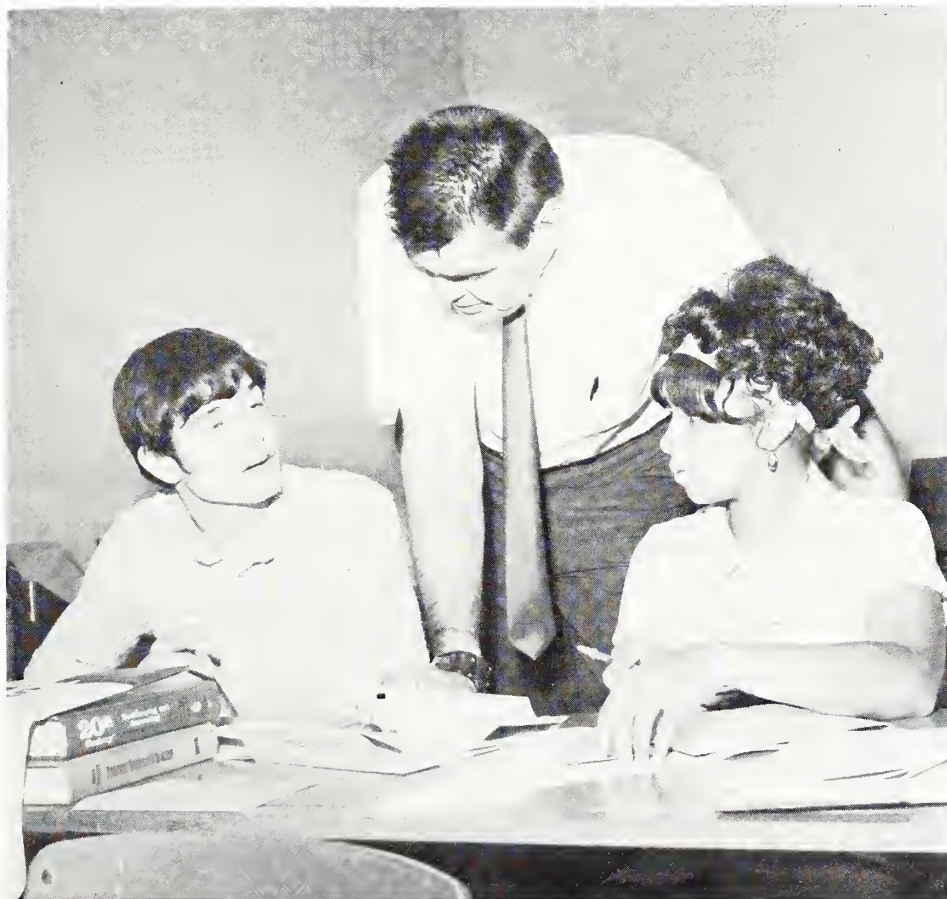

Typing classes, such as this one, learn the basic keyboard and symbols. Once these are mastered, accuracy and speed are reached for through timed writings.

Karen Shute, Kathy Obermeyer, and Phil Relford tabulate sums in Machine Cal.

Stuart Sutliff and Tanya Appleberry get help from their teacher, Mr. William Rosenstihl. Bookkeeping students get experience in balancing ledgers.

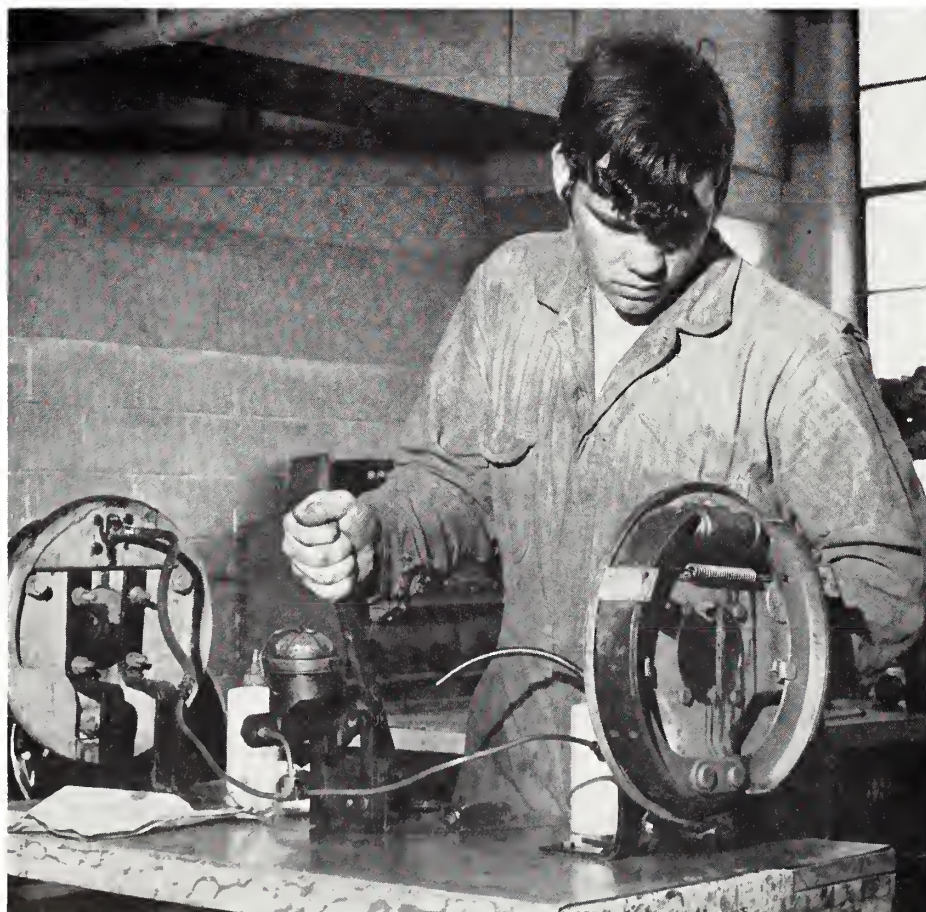

Working with a signal generator, oscilloscope, and vacuum tube voltmeter, Tony Bates tests and aligns the superhetrodyne radio he built in Electronics.

Shop Provides Background for Engineering, Industry

Jerry O'Neill removes air from brake lines to assure their proper function. Boys also learn brake adjustment and other general car repair in Auto Shop.

Six shop areas and drawing classes provide students with knowledge useful for future occupations. Shop classes give basic instruction for industrialized fields, and drawing courses prepare students for many vocational jobs.

In Wood Shop, boys learn use of hand tools and machines, home repairs and scale construction. They also work on six-week projects.

Students in Graphic Arts print pupil passes and other office forms, and silkscreen Senior Armbands and posters for numerous activities.

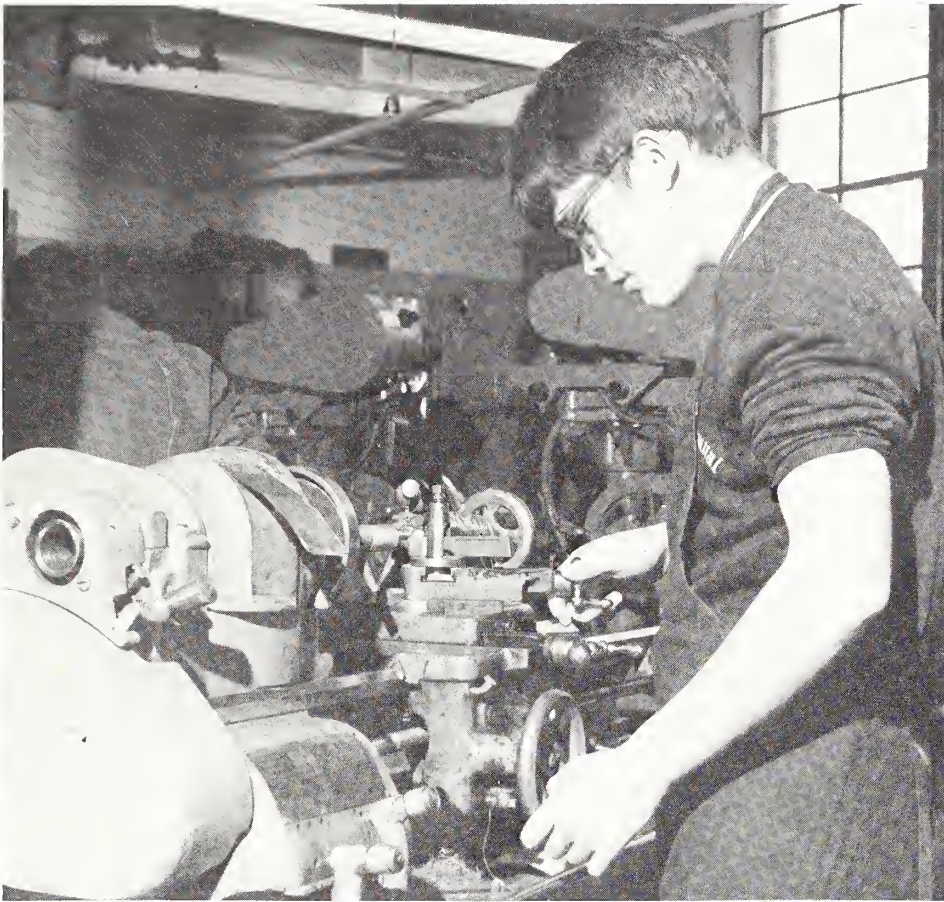

Boys learn car care and engine repair in Auto Shop. One project mechanics undertake is to disassemble and reassemble an engine.

Electric Shop acquaints students with principles of electronics.

Pupils in Metal Shop work with flat sheets of metal, making objects by bending or welding.

Machine Shop students use heavier bar metal which they cut to shape utilizing different machines.

Mechanical Drawing, Machine Drawing, and Architectural Drawing teach skills for future jobs.

Jim Perryman grinds a hammer head with a metal lathe in Machine Shop. Precise measurements, to the hundredth of an inch, are required on all projects.

Freshmen Warren Ward varnishes his "what-not" which he constructed in Wood Shop. Other projects include chess boards, stools, and baseball bats.

Mark Meyer, Bill Trimble, and David Zike silkscreen armbands for Senior Day from a design Junior John Poteet made in art class.

Maj. Gen. J. Milnor Roberts congratulates Steve Brown as Scot Price, Linda Clark, and Mary Merritt look on. Maj. Gen. Roberts is Chief of the Army Reserves.

Year-round Drilling Prepares Cadets for 'Active' Duty

SSg. James McDaniel and SSg. Roy Lawrence check Dan Pitcher during inspection. Each cadet must stand inspection every week and may win a "ribbon" decoration.

ROTC attracts many students interested in military service. Activities include drilling and marching. Instructions are given on use of ammunition and combat tactics.

This year, four cadet officers visited Maj. Gen. J. Milnor Roberts, Chief of Army Reserves. They received the invitation through Mr. Elba Cole, a school counselor.

The ROTC presented the Colors at several basketball games. They marched in the Veterans Day Parade with units from other schools.

Battalion Commander C/Lt. Col. Scot Price assisted Commandant SSg. James McDaniel, new this year.

SSg. Roy Lawrence, the other instructor, served as coach of both the Rifle Team and the Drill Team. The Corps won Federal Inspections in 1969 and '70. In May 1971, they placed second in the city.

The theme of the Military Ball, March 4, was "Love American Style." ROTC cadets and their dates danced to "Steve Belmer and His Band." Highlight of the evening was the crowning of Linda Clark.

Energetic Enjoy Daily Workout in Gym Classes

All Freshmen are required to take two semesters of Physical Education. Phys. Ed. gives students an opportunity to participate in various sports and gymnastic exercises.

Volleyball, softball, soccer, basketball, and kickball, along with tumbling, are on the agenda for girls. Tumbling includes work with the rings, horse, and buck, as well as somersaults and headstands.

Boys play many of the same games and work on apparatus, also. This helps to develop muscle coordination which prepares them for all types of physical activities.

Those who really enjoy gym and can fit it into their schedules continue with advanced classes, which offer a break in the day.

Health for senior boys and all Driver Education classes are also in this department's curriculum.

Sandy Short and Dorothy Patterson enter the Driver Education car. Driver Education pupils, three to a car, drive every third day during the semester.

During the warm fall and spring months, gym classes move outside. This girls' gym class is doing warm-up exercises before beginning regular class.

A boys' gym class executes a spirited game of inter-squad volleyball.

Members of Senior Honoraries Escort Frosh, Serve Alums

Members of Masoma and Roines, senior honoraries, were busy year-round with service activities. The clubs began their stint of school services on opening day when they welcomed and assisted the incoming freshmen.

Sponsored by Mrs. Kathryn Nichols, Masoma members prepared traditional mums for the homecoming festivities. They also helped with the Alumni Dinner in February by setting tables and serving.

Roines actives, sponsored by Mr. Dennis Jackson, checked coats on Alumni night and sponsored the popular Roines Romps. These dances featured the popular groups "Granite" and "Joysprings" and used strobe and colored lights.

Roines and Masoma members clashed on the gym floor in their annual basketball game. Competition was spirited and exciting, giving each club an opportunity to direct its rivalry at the "other" team.

The two groups also sponsored PowWow booths, run by pledges.

Masoma members served dinner at the annual Alumni night in February. Here, Nellie Lamperski and Leslie Spencer wait on members of the Class of '22, new 50-year Club members — Mr. Oscar S. Vogt, Mrs. Vogt, and Mrs. Helen Barr.

Winner of the Masoma-Roines basketball game is still uncertain as both teams claim victory in the battle, and who knows?

The National Honor Society, an honorary organization for juniors and seniors excelling in academics, leadership, character, and school service, had its pledging ceremony in the aud March 8. The 30 pledges were formally inducted May 14.

The Student Affairs Board promoted better student-teacher relations by allowing persons with free periods to attend their meetings. There were also several SAB-sponsored after-game dances.

SAB members listen to Mr. Wayne Spinks at a meeting in the Conference Room.

Stage Crew Creates Sets; Radio Club Greet 'Early Birds'

The stage crew and radio club are two of Manual's busiest groups.

The stage crew spent many long hours building the sets used in the musical and Redskin Revue. They also constructed the platforms needed for the four one-act plays and the Christmas aud program.

The stage crew is also responsible for the lighting and sound systems and set movement. During Redskin Revue, a set had to be moved off stage and replaced with another in less than two minutes.

Radio Club members learn the production techniques of broadcasting. They employ their knowledge through a 15-minute radio program on Manual's station, WMHS, each morning. Songs and bits of information entertain all until 8:10.

Don Tompkins reads the morning news over WMHS, Manual's radio station.

Sound and Stage Managers Stu Sutliff and Mike Jones "work" an aud program.

Thespians Perform Modern 'One-acts,' Children's Stories

Manual's active Thespians presented four modern one-act plays, "Quartet for Today," on February 12, in half-round in Band Room.

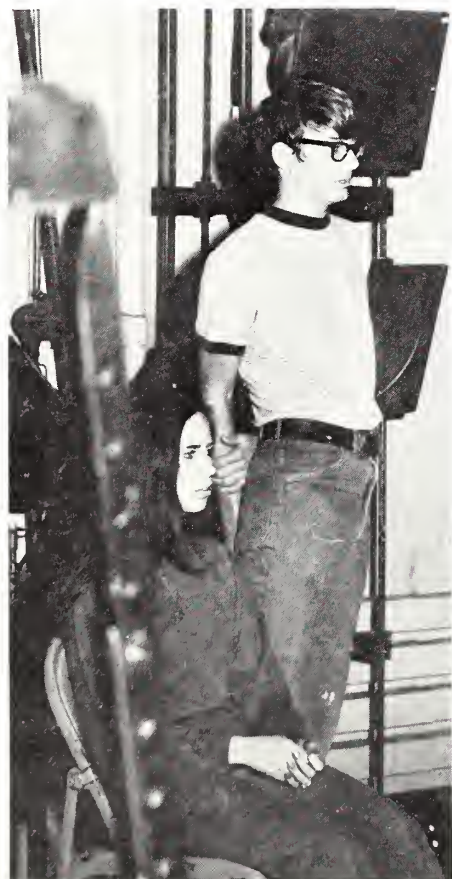

"Quartet for Today," on February .

The first of the plays, "The Masks," explored the part religion plays in lives. The characters soul-searched before realizing that some people, indeed they themselves, wore masks over their real faces.

The next two plays, "Lullabye" and "Memorial Day," treated over-indulgent parents. "Lullabye" told of parents giving in to a child's every demand while "Memorial Day" showed a couple, each so involved in his own wishes for his son that he forgot to consult the child to see what he wanted.

The final play, "An Overpraised Season," dealt with teenagers' views on life, war, and religion.

Later in the year, the group performed "The Princess and the Pea."

Claudia Sutherlen and David Sease play a scene from "An Overpraised Season."

Margaret Maxwell and Gary Mills, Mrs. and Mr. Lutz in "Memorial Day," attempt to pull their son, Peter, from the well he has lived in for three years.

Charles Wolfe, Linda Hathaway, Beth Mullen, and David Blythe are cast members of "The Masks," a play depicting the hypocrisy of some church-going people.

Leslie Spencer portrays an insane old woman in the play, "Lullabye."

Beth Mullen and Linda Hathaway listen to David Blythe in the "church" scene.

Paul (David McAllister) comforts his wife Laurel (Terri Glass) as she finally realizes that their children are not as innocent as she had thought.

Instrumentalist or Vocalist—Manual Has Place for You

Annie Mason, Gerald Cox, and Phillip Dinkins practice with the orchestra.

Manual's Music Department offers many organizations for musical talents. These extra-curricular groups are fun for participants and entertainment for others.

Early in the fall semester the Marching Band could be found on the practice field every afternoon. With football games each Friday night and the marching contest in October, the band practiced its shows for precision, showmanship.

In November came the annual musical. "Bye Bye Birdie" let both vocalists and instrumentalists "show off" to fellow Manualites.

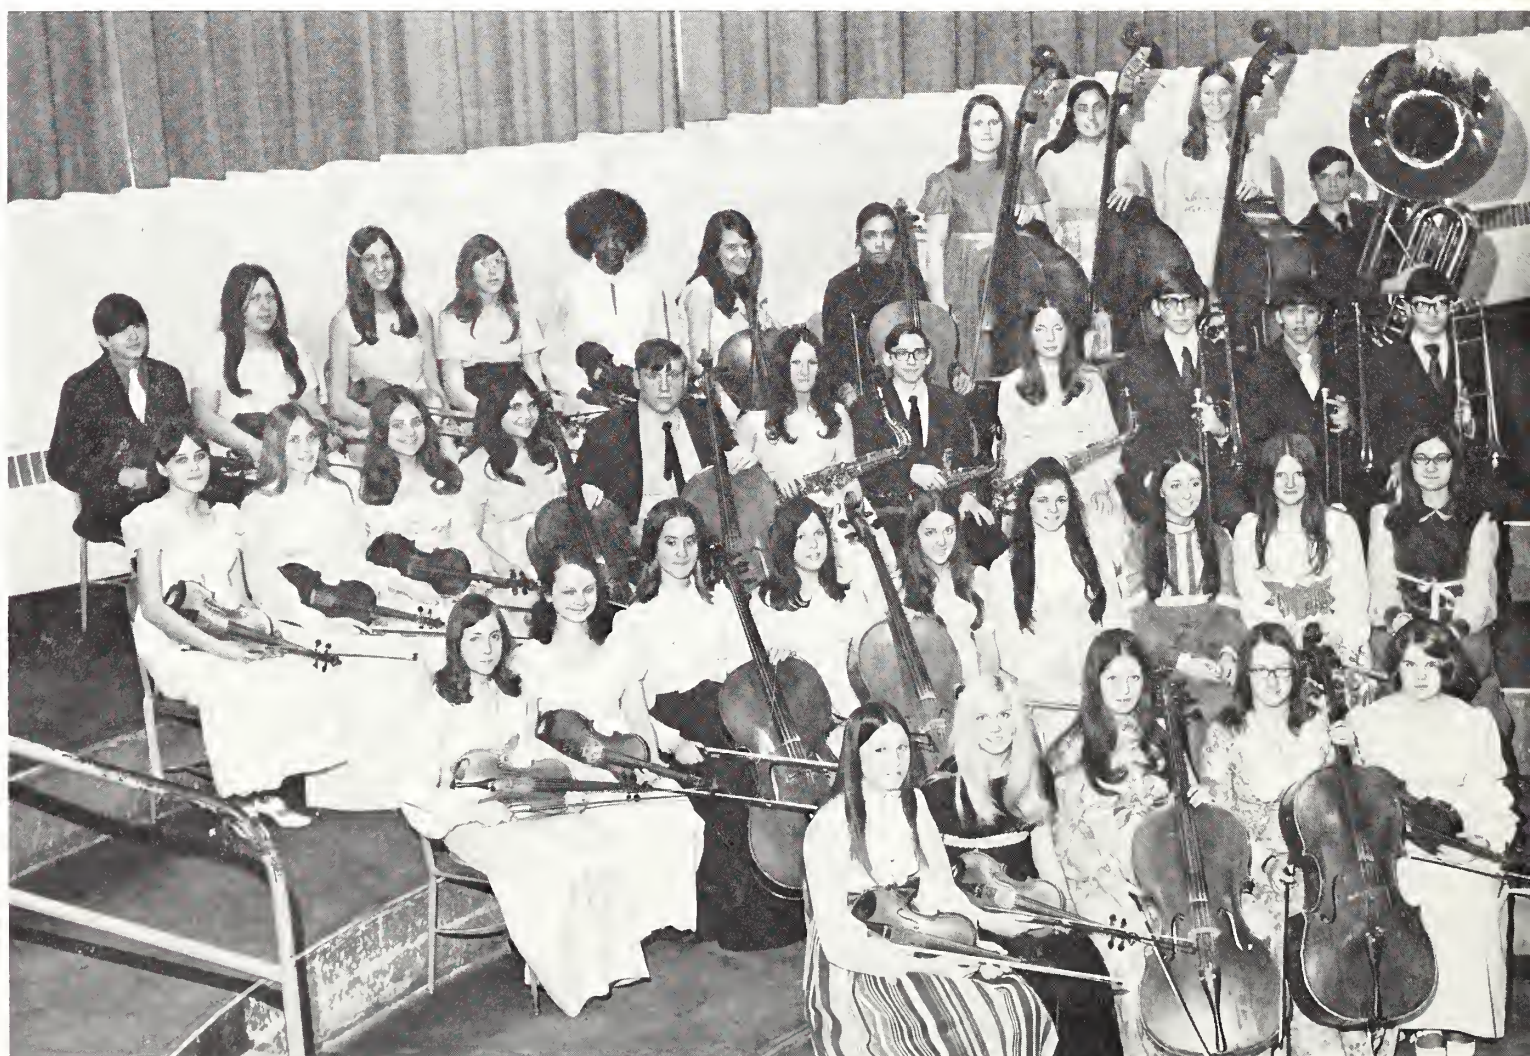

Strains of Christmas carols were heard in December from Manual vocalists singing before school on the main stairway. All vocal classes participated in the "greetings."

February brought the Alumni Dinner and this meant another musical program. The Orchestra and Choir performed for this occasion.

In March, the Concert Band and Girls' Glee Club presented their annual concert, followed by the Choir-Orchestra concert in April.

The May Music Festival combined all phases of the Music Department in a big display of talent.

ORCHESTRA — FRONT ROW: Lisa Wineinger, Candy Collier, Victoria Holland, Nancy Hedges, Cheryl Stenger. SECOND ROW: Rebecca Pieper, Debra Welsh, Anne Maschmeyer, Karen Johnson, Diana Glasson, Vickie Minton, Gail Butterfield, Donna Laetsch, Mary Entwistle. Band 'Marches' to Eighteenth 'First Division' Rating

Twirlers salute the Stars and Stripes at mid-field as the band plays the "Star Spangled Banner" from the stands and fans sing before a football game.

Manual's Redskin Marching Band, under the direction of Drum Major Jay Doty, won its eighteenth consecutive "First Division" rating at the Indiana High School Music Association Marching Contest in October. A unique show was diagrammed with "Love" as its theme by Mr. William D. Kleyla, Band Director. The maneuvers included such techniques as backward marching, pinwheels, abstracts, and a sunburst. Rarely attempted by a high school band, the sunburst added an extra effect of precision to the show. This contest, always performed on the Southport field, was well-attended by Redskin fans.

Booster Reporters Capture Manual News Weekly

Booster Editor, Tim Hebble confers with Page Editors Lynn Janke and Kathy Wakefield, Sports Editor Keith Klingler, and Alice Lucas, News Bureau Head.

Publications staffers work to produce the Booster 24 weeks of the school year. Editor Tim Hebble, Page Editors Lynn Janke, Keith Klingler, and Kathy Wakefield assign stories to staffers who then have the responsibility of getting the information and writing the copy. Those who do not have stories work on headlines or proofread galleys and assist with makeup.

Mrs. Jane Gable and Mr. Philip Ross, sponsors, help with any problems that may arise. Photographers are trained by Mr. Ross.

Manual journalists attended the Greater Indianapolis Press Day at North Central High School, January 15. In contests, Diann Newport won first place in Novice Newswriting, and Junior Suzanne Nicks, second in Cartooning for novices.

At a Christmas get-together, staffers' gag-gift-exchange provides the entertainment. In June everyone picnics at a park.

Booster agents pick up papers for their classmates as they do every Thursday before home room. Some 70 "news carriers" deliver the weekly paper. Agents not only bring Boosters to the home room, but they also take orders for underclass pictures and sell yearbook subscriptions.

Chatting at the Publications Christmas party are Cub Clubbers Mary Jo Beaman, Carole Hosford, Liz Adams, Brenda Hagenmaier, and Frances Long (seated), and Cheryl Harmon, Jeff Lindstrom, John Maxwell, and Barbara Kleinfelter (standing).

"What is it?" Roger Carroll seems to question as he unwraps his gag gift.

Ivian Staff Combines Talents to Produce 'Best Seller'

Dream to reality — '72 Ivian!

With a vague idea, yearbook Co-editors Marnie Maxwell and Beth Mullen tried to present the students' year in a different perspective, incorporating new and innovative techniques in the book.

Since school involves more than learning, the two editors and their sponsor, Mrs. Jane Gable, agreed to show the ways many student involve themselves in their extra-activities. Manual is "A Time For Learning, Happiness, and You."

Staffers worked long hours mounting pictures, writing copy and cutlines, and proofreading. Some staffers spent weekends and days of their vacations piecing together the yearbook. Photographers kept busy taking and printing pictures.

"The combined efforts of a small loyal staff makes the yearbook what it is," said Co-editor Marnie.

Manualites Help Others through Club Activities

The art of macrame was demonstrated at a Y-Teens meeting. Linda Moore shows the technique to Myra Whitaker, Melinda Harden, and Mrs. Betty Warner, sponsor.

Three active groups serve Manual and the community — Key Club, Tri-Hi-Y, and Y-Teens.

Chartered last year, Key Club members undertake many projects helpful to the community. "Project Christmas" was a drive for canned goods to give to needy families in Indianapolis. The club collected 20 boxes of goods and added meat.

Over spring vacation, Key Clubbers campaigned for Multiple Sclerosis with a ping-pong Marathon.

Key Club members also Christmas carolled, played basketball with Indiana Central's Circle-K Club, and cleaned up after the Pow Wow.

Tri-Hi-Y members sold traditional red derbies during Sectional time and organized a contest for the best decorated derby. They also sponsored a Pow-Wow booth.

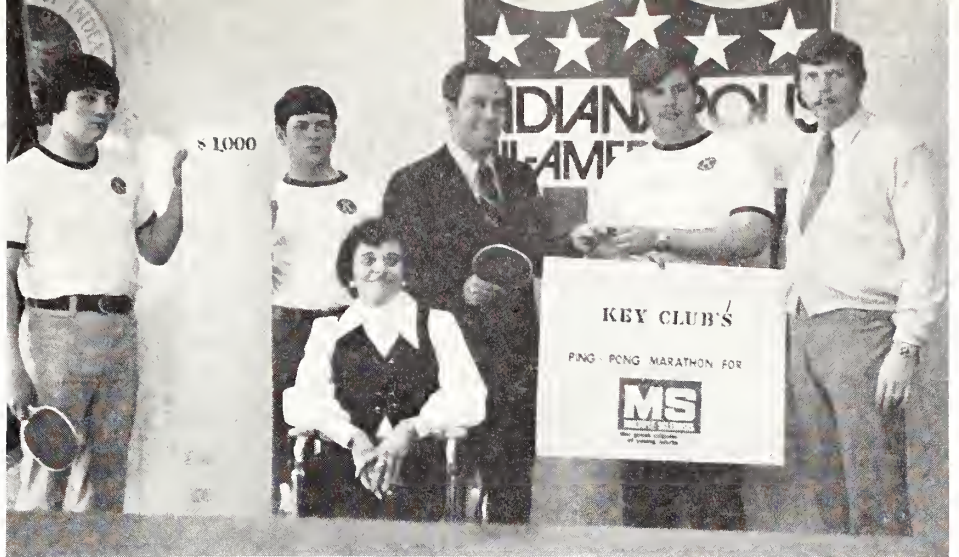

Girls in Y-Teens "manned" a coat check during basketball season. At weekly meetings, members listened to guest speakers and watched a macrame demonstration.

Tri-Hi-Y President Patty Roberts presents the award over the PA for "Best Decorated Derby" at Sectional time to the winner, Arthru Dye. Other officers — Vice-president Kay Newton, Secretary Michele Newton, and treasurer Bev Taylor — witness the presentation. This was a project of this service club to promote spirit and enthusiasm for the Redskins during the tournament.

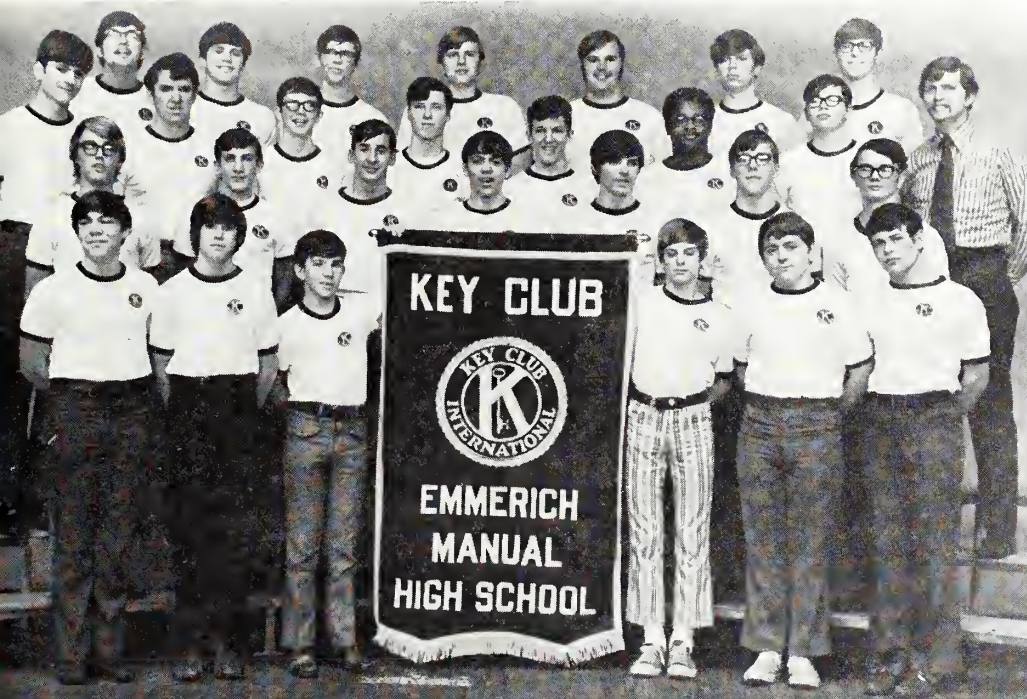

Mayor Richard Lugar got the Key Club's ping-pong Marathon for Multiple Sclerosis started by giving a donation to Marathon Chairman Carl Schnepf. Others are President Jim Narmore, President-elect Paul Osmon, a multiple sclerosis patient, and Mr. Robert Hignite, sponsor. All met in the Mayor's office in the City County Building.

Organizations Provide Outlets for Varied Interests

Future Business Leaders' officers — Anthony Nourse, Mark Borden, Carolyn Pittman, Myra Whitaker, Karen Bowling, and Annie Mason — meet to plan club activities.

Chess, Art, and Future Business Leaders Clubs cater to Manualites' many and varied interests.

Chess Club is designed for students interested in learning the fundamentals of and practicing their skill at the game.

The Art Club reorganized this year. Included in the activities were demonstrations in water color, ceramics, and jewelry. Members worked on individual projects of macrame, figure drawing, and batik. They also took field trips to Indiana University and the new Indianapolis Museum of Art.

The Future Business Leaders Club offer an insight into business practices and helps prepare its members for the business world.

Students Practice Language Lingo at Meetings

Spanish Club officers Leisa Betzler, Peggy Richardson, Leslie Spencer, and Steve Nix meet with Mr. Carsey Gentry, club sponsor, to discuss future club plans.

Three language clubs provide students with culture about the countries whose languages they study.

Many people spoke to the Spanish Club about Spanish-speaking countries they had visited. Their talks were augmented with Spanish travel films and Spanish songs and games. At the Christmas fiesta, club members broke a candy-filled pinata and ate Spanish foods. Later in the year, Mr. Robert Snoddy, English teacher, played his flamenco guitar for the group.

The French Club, new this year, discovered delicious French cuisine at La Tour, a French restaurant in the Indiana National Bank tower.

The Latin Club had two celebrations — a birthday party in November and a Christmas party the next month. At regular meetings, scenes from Roman history were viewed.

Linda May, Diann Newport, Stephanie Cook, and David Sease, French Club officers, plan a dinner at La Tour restaurant with their sponsor, Mr. David Phillips.

Active Judoka and Bowlers Practice 'Throws'

Randy Wilson is about to be thrown by Ricky Gray. Wilson is the victim of Gray's shoulder throw, which is called Seio-Nage in Japan, where judo began.

Two "co-ed" sports at Manual are the Judo and Bowling Clubs. Both have many Redskins as members who actively participate.

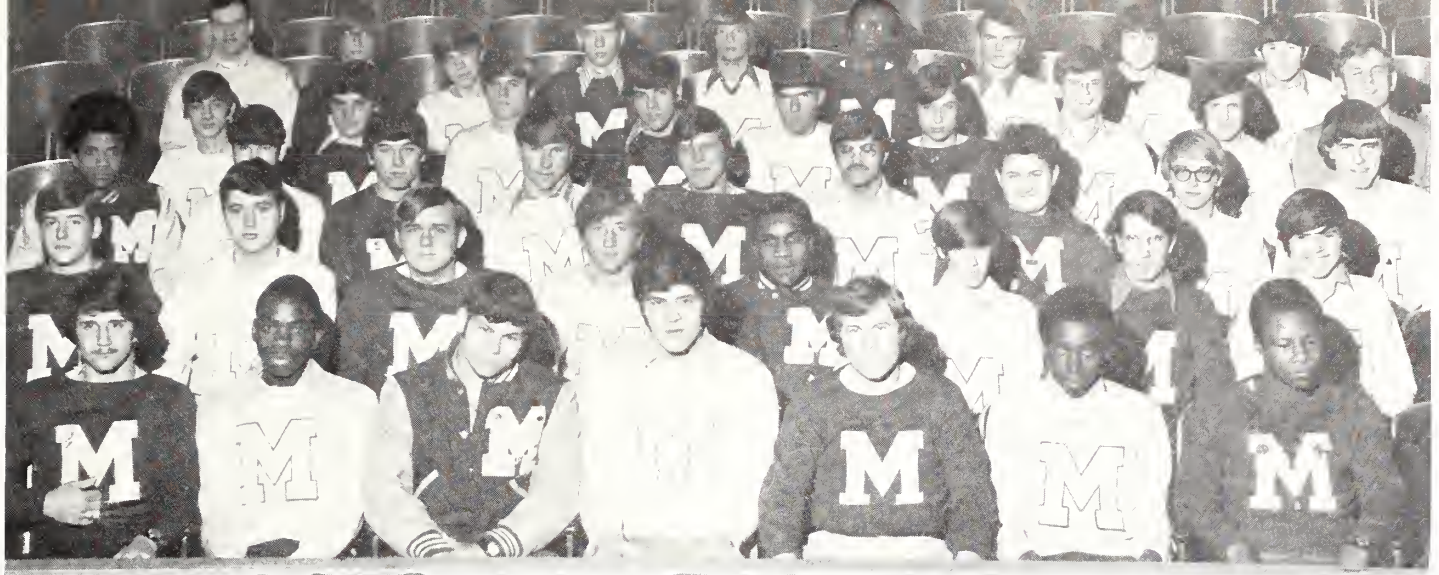

Under the direction of Mr. Stephen Sharpee, a "black belt," the Judo Club has progressed to its third year. Meeting several afternoons a week, the members of this club learn the art of self-defense but also have fun in the process. Various holds and throws are demonstrated and taught.

Manual bowlers traveled to Sport Bowl Tuesdays after school for an afternoon of fun and competition. The members of the thirteen teams tried their best to improve their individual scores and their teams' standing. The annual bowling banquet took place in the cafeteria on March 30. Trophies for team standings and individual accomplishments were presented.

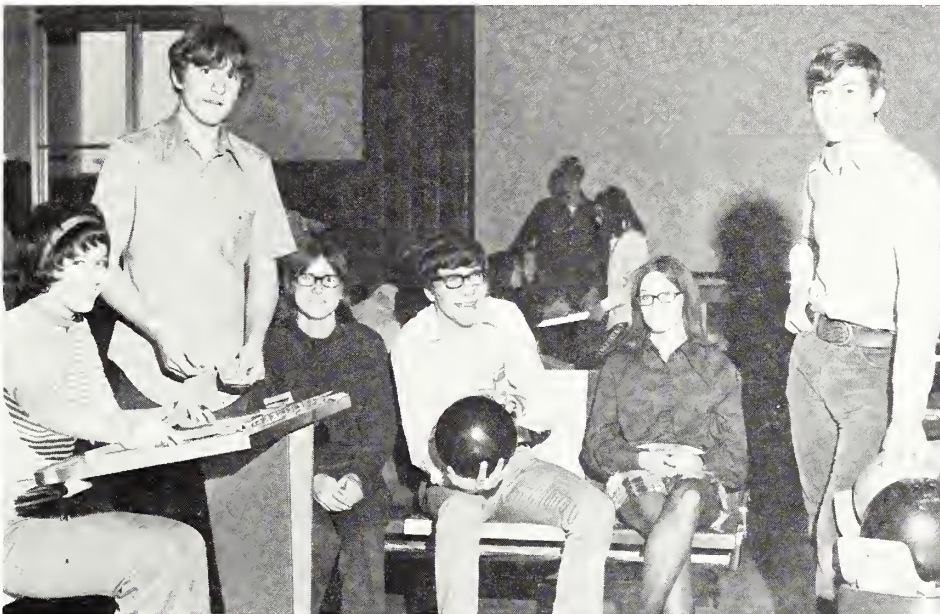

Secretary Karen O'Connor had the job of figuring the weekly averages and handicaps for the club.

Banks Collects MVP Honor While Leading Redskins

Center Bob Mack (51) and Randy Johnson (70) anxiously await returning to the offensive action against No. 1 rival Southport in the year's homecoming contest, October 22.

The 1971-72 Redskin grid season was a reverse of the last year's slate, posting four wins and six losses. Seniors leading the offensive attack were Lanny Banks, Rod Bruce, Mike Collins, Mike Graham, Bob Mack, and Karlow Tutt. Royce Allen, Mike Grider, Randy Johnson, Norman Leonard, John Meehan, Eddie Owens, Joe Snyder, and Joe Wilson, all of whom are juniors, will be returning next year.

Sophomores getting some varsity experience were Wilfred Jimison, John Masengale, and Dan Underwood; all showed up well.

Delbert Bowles, Larry Stuard, Terry Willis, and Mark Montgomery consistently upheld a tight line on defense throughout the season.

Banks, who led the 'Skins in total points with 66, was voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates. Banks, along with Willis, attained honorable mention in the All-City ratings at the end of the season.

Three different players alternated at starting quarterback throughout the year — Collins, Snyder, and Leonard, in that order of play. These men received the ball from Mack, playing his first year in the center position. Collins was also the team's only punter and compiled a near 35-yard average for the ten games played—excellent for a "prep" school kicker.

Manual was outscored by opponents, 201 to 176 total points. Despite the losing season, the loyal fans continually filled the bleachers at Delavan Smith Field for all home contests. The 'Skins responded by posting three of their four victories on the home turf. The other win came in the initial game of the season on the Roncalli field.

Coach Noah Ellis completed his sixteenth season as head mentor.

Frosh Face 10 Foes

Manual's Junior Varsity gridders played to a stand-off season of four wins, four losses, and one tie. The future Varsity squad, under the leadership of Coach Dennis Jackson, posted strong victories over Howe 20-0, Tech 22-0, Ritter 20-6, and Columbus 22-6. Overcoming the Redskins were Cathedral 46-0, Arlington and Broad Ripple 14-0, and Southport 16-8. The lone tie came with Washington 6-6. Juniors Tyrone Baker, Herbie Clark, Don Durrett, Victor Merida, and George Taylor, and Sophomore Rick Stevenson led the determined 'Skins' attack throughout the season.

The football-minded Freshmen, led by Coaches Fred Jones and Gerald Root, didn't fare so well as the older 'Skins, recording a season of three wins and seven losses. Arlington, Roncalli, and Wood were the Frosh victims; Washington, Howe, Cathedral, Tech, Broad Ripple, Ritter, and Southport downed them.

Roger Carroll Heads Junior-packed Harrier Team

The Varsity Cross Country squad, which was composed mostly of juniors, finished out another winning season under head Coach Al Pike with an 8-5 record.

Leading the Redskins throughout the season were Roger Carroll, Randy Johnson, Rod Gilley, Tim Hebble, Gary Jay, Russ Finley, Larry Walker, and Mike Lindsey. All will be returning for next year's season with the exception of Lindsey and Walker.

The Richard Blough "Roines" Most Valuable Runner Award was presented to Roger Carroll, who consistently placed high in Varsity competition.

Three-hundred Mile Trophies were awarded to Randy Johnson, Tim Hebble, Russ Finley, Mark Leudemann, and Larry Walker.

Roger Carroll also recorded the best times of the year both on the home course and away. His home time was 10:13 while his away score was 9:22. Randy Johnson was next in line with a 10:37, and Rod Gilley was second on the foreign courses with 9:53.

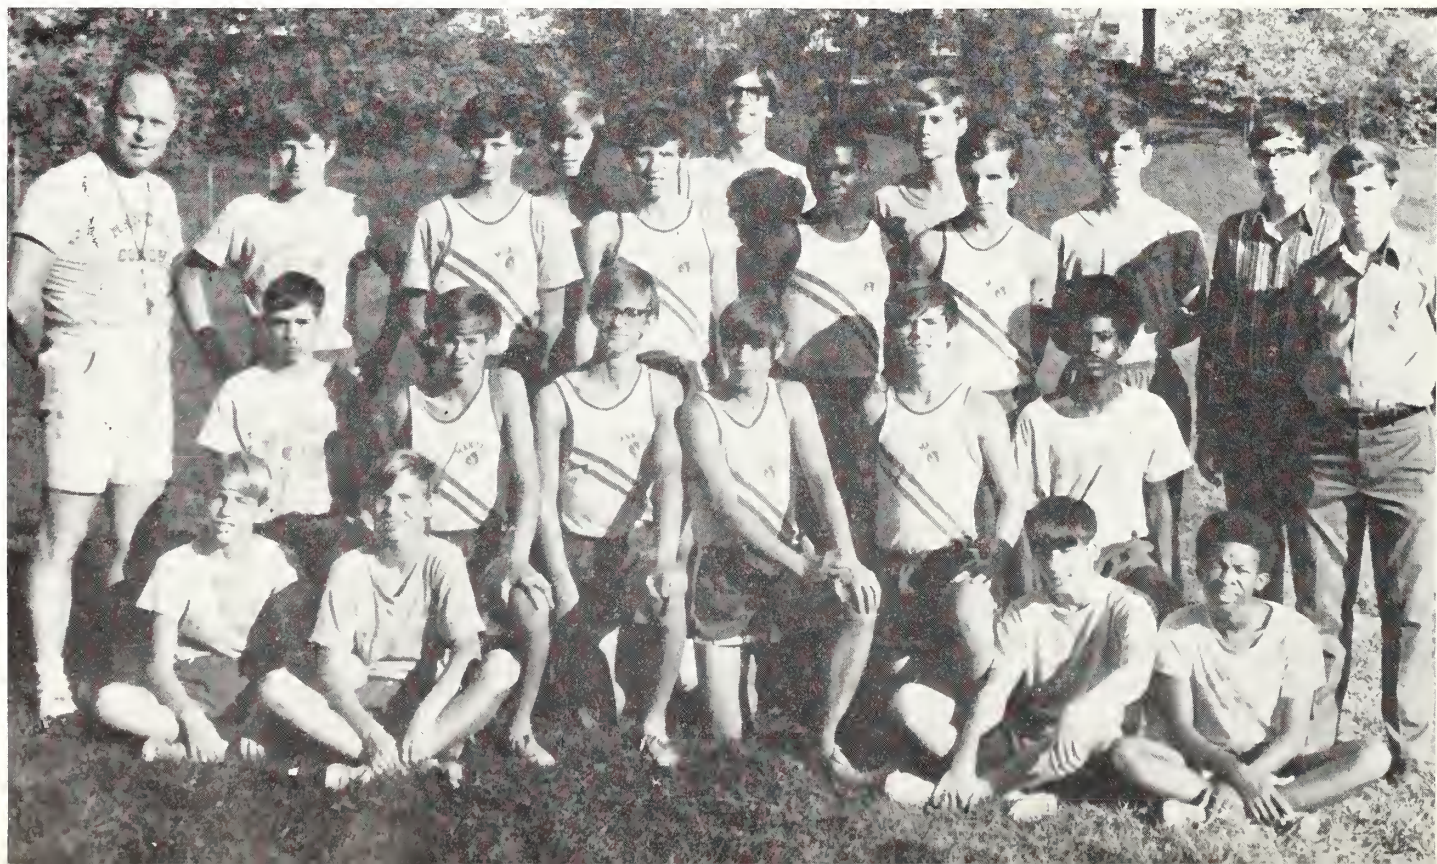

Well in the front of the pack, Juniors Randy Johnson and Roger Carroll set a fast pace. Throughout the season they placed high in Varsity competition.

The 'Skins picked up a fourth place in the City and a sixth in the Sectional while placing a high third in the Northwest Invitational meet.

The Reserves had an identical record of 8-5 while the Frosh, coached by Paul Glaspie, student teacher, Indiana Central, were 7-2.

Assisting at a wrestling meet are Wrestling Greeters Kathy Lewis, Marilyn Munn, Denise Winstead, Patti Winstead, Sandy Holmes, and Jeannette Mullen. They and their sponsor, Miss Cynthia Mahin, attended all the meets.

The Varsity Wrestling squad, under the instruction of Coach Jack Foster, brought Manual its first City Championship while compiling an undefeated season in dual meets.

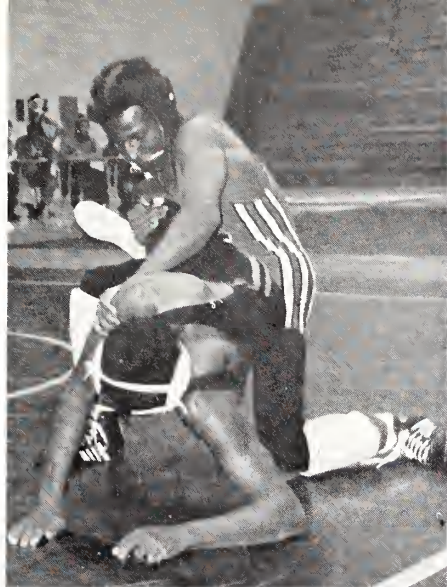

The City Champ's Most Valuable Player was Senior Karlow Tutt, who finished his high school competition with a fantastic 12-0 record.

Other Varsity standouts were Seniors James Jimison and Terris Winstead and Junior Eddie Owens who all finished first in Sectional Competition but were eliminated in the first round of the Regional Tournament. Jimison was given the BACUBA award for being the most aggressive grappler of the season.

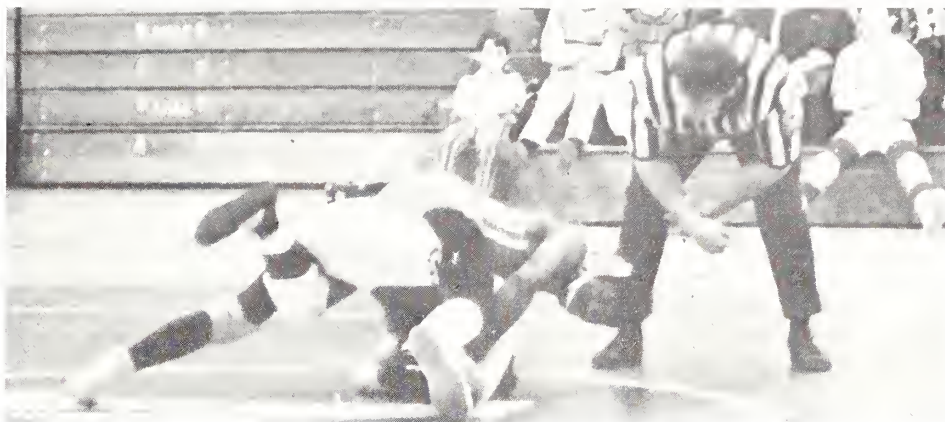

Even though the Redskins will be losing a large portion of their championship team, they will have several promising returnees such as Juniors Bob Watness, Royce Allen, Owens, Pasto Shockley, David Baumann, and Eddie Johnston, and Sophomore Rommell Smith.

MVP Jim Hall Tops 1,000 Mark, Leads Senior Lineup

For the third consecutive year Coach Fred Belser guided the Varsity Basketball squad to a winning 13-10 season. Also for the third year the Redskins were runners-up in the Southport Sectional, this time behind the Attucks Tigers.

Jim Hall closed out his Varsity career by being the thirty-eighth player in the city's history to score 1,000 points or more. He was named the 'Skins' Most Valuable Player and also received recognition for his rebounding and his assists. He and Darrell Short, who won the free-throw trophy, were co-captains and were named to the All-Sectional squad.

Other members of the senior-dominated lineup were Fred Hutton, Calvin Davis, and Lanny Banks.

Standouts for next year's squad will be Juniors Don Goad, Norman Leonard, Ron Goad, Tony White, Rick Gabbard, and Tyrone Baker, and Freshman Derrick Johnson.

Senior MVP Jim Hall (44) quickly leads a fast break against Roncalli as Fred Hutton, also a forward, awaits a pass. Hall was the city's third leading scorer and passed his well-touted 1,000-point career total with 1,081 markers.

James Pinner is a long jump participant.

Coach "Moe" Moriarty guided his 1971 trackmen to another successful year with a fine 15-1 record.

Leading the senior-packed squad were Jeff Adams, Greg Allen, Bob Lane, Albert Munn, MVP Jim Pinner, Eric Smith, and Tim Yates.

Strong junior members were Rod Bruce, Mike Graham, Jim Hall, Terry Odom, and Darrell Short.

Royce Allen, Roger Carroll, Tim Hebble, John Meehan, Eddie Owens, and Mark Shives showed strong promise as sophomores.

Many records were broken during the '71 season. City high jump champion, Bob Lane, set a new record with a 6'5½" leap. Tim Yates set a quick pace for the two mile with a 9:49.6. The relay for the same distance had its time improved by Adams, Cannon, Carroll, and Schilling with a total time of 8:19.2. Royce, Greg Allen, Meehan, and Bruce set a new half mile relay mark with a 1:32.2 time. Pinner, Smith, Munn, and Graham were clocked at 3:28.5 for the mile relay race.

The Redskins placed a respectable third in the City Tourney of the twelve teams. They also earned a second place among twelve teams at the Franklin Relays.

The 'Skins look to a bright future as the Reserves posted a 6-3 slate and the Frosh a 9-3 mark for their season's efforts.

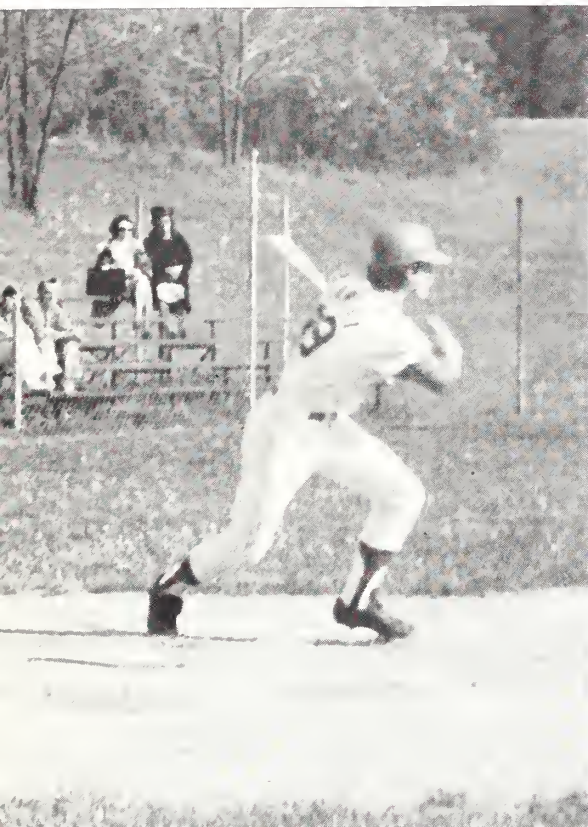

Varsity distance runners Tim Yates (57), and Tim Hebble (28) reduce their time Birl Schilling (55), Roger Carroll (16), through strenuous practice.

Hartsock, Mack, and Montgomery Pace Diamondmen

First Baseman Jim Hartsock gets a hit showing the ability which led to MVP.

Coach Bill Rosenstihl guided his Varsity Baseball squad to a respectable 15-11 year in only his second year as head mentor.

Leading the team were MVP Jim Hartsock, Co-captains Jim Mack and Dale Petrie, Bob Mack, Mark Montgomery, Ricky Poynter, Mike Ford, and Mike Collins.

The Manual baseball team finished as runners-up in the City Sectional behind Southport.

Six Manual Redskins earned placement on the Honorable Mention list of the Indianapolis Star's All-City baseball team: Seniors Jim Mack, Jim Hartsock, Dale Petrie, and Rick Poynter, and Junior Bob Mack, Soph. Mark Montgomery.

Boys participating in their last year as Manual baseball players are Dennis Fishburn, Rod Osmon, Rick Poynter, Dale Petrie, Rick Tyree, Jim Mack, Jim Hartsock, Ray Kennedy, and Jim Harris.

Manual will have four returning lettermen next year. They are Norman Leonard, pitcher; Mike Ford, pitcher; Jeff Hammond, first baseman; and Bob Mack, third baseman. Bright prospects moving up from the Reserve squad are Dan Clements, Rick Gabbard, Herb Clark, Ron Goad, and Don Goad.

The Reserves had a season of 10-6 and the Frosh, a 4-3 mark.

Three top members of the Golf Team — Junior Herb Taylor and Seniors Scott Johnson and Danny Brown — pose in their individual driving stances. Herb was a strong part of the 1972 squad.

Teemen Swing with Tom Klinge and Herb Taylor

Practice such as this greatly helped Tom Klinge earn his second MVP award. Tom played varsity all four years.

Golf Coach "Woody" McBride led his 1971 team to a nine win, eight loss, and one tie season. Tom Klinge was MVP with a 38.5 stroke average. Manual also placed seventh out of 20 teams participating in Sectional play.

Divotmen lost to graduation were Tom Klinge, who is attending Ball State, Scott Johnson, who is at the University of Evansville, Dan Brown, and Ted Norman.

To fill out the Varsity team for the 1972 season were returnees Tom Cleek, Matt Maple, Mark Wire, John Smith, Ray Hauser, Jim Harlan, Carl Schnepf, Al Greer, Paul Osmon, and Jim Perryman.

Herb Taylor was expected to be the star player for the Redskins and could be one of the top high school golfers in the city.

Hedegard and Koenig Reach City Tourney Finals

Sophomore Kurt Hedegard led the Manual Tennis team to a nine-win and eight-loss 1971 season and went on to be named Most Valuable Player of the year. The racketmen, led by Coach Robert Hignite, defeated such foes as Scecina, 7-0, and Cathedral, 4-3, and fell to Broad Ripple, 5-2, Marshall, 4-3, and Franklin Central, 4-3.

Other racketmen who contributed to the team during the '71 season were Senior Tim Updike, Juniors Mark Koenig, and Steve Catlett, Sophomores John Haley and Zach Bird, and Freshman Tim Crafton.

Kurt Hedegard and Mark Koenig went into the final rounds of the All-City Tennis Tournament in May. Hedegard started off with twin wins of 6-0, which put him in the rounds the next day, and a forfeit enabled him to continue his winning ways. Hedegard and Koenig lost their first set of doubles, 4-6, but were victors of the next two, 6-1 and 6-3. The winners of the first round preliminaries the weekend before were Bill Hagenmaier, Tim Updike, and Koenig. Hagenmaier won his first round with a score of 6-4, 4-6, and 7-8, but lost his second round to a Broad Ripple man at 3-6 and 2-6.

Koenig won his first two sets, romping a Northwest Pioneer by a score of 6-1 and 6-4. Koenig and Updike lost their second rounds.

Sophomore Kurt Hedegard eagerly awaits an opponent's serve in a home match on the Garfield Park courts.

Mark Koenig carefully keeps his eye on the ball as he warms up by practicing his all-important serve.

Enthusiastic Cheersters 'Fire Up' Redskin Fans

Brightening the first-year teams are Cheerleaders (front) Beth Taylor, Patti Chitwood, Julie Stone, (back) Captain Clarice Favors, and Karla Conner.

Reserve cheerleaders are (front) Michelle Kemp, Linda Hann, (middle) Donna Thompson, Tanya Campbell, (back) Captain Anne Maschmeyer, Joni Kriese.

Members of the Varsity squad, elected last year, are Cassie Woolery, Captain Judy Steele, Denise Sheets, Barbara Dawson, Jan Elrod, and Sandy Spaulding.

Seventeen cheerleaders livened up this year's sports as they showed their enthusiastic support at football and basketball games.

The Reserve's and Varsity's acrobatics, tumbling, cheers, and precision were improved at camp during summer, '71. The two squads traveled to Findlay College in Ohio for a five-day cheerleading workshop for instruction by the Ohio State University Cheerleaders. The workshop proved to be helpful to campers Michelle Kemp, Tanya Campbell, Terri Horn, Anne Maschmeyer, Donna Thompson, Linda Hann, Denise Sheets, and Barb Dawson.

Enough money was earned and donated to purchase new uniforms for both top squads. The new outfits sparked spirit and added to the excitement of the ball games. Sponsor of all three squads this year was Miss Joyce Simmons.

Intramurals Offer Free-time Fun to Sports-minded

Energetic students who participate in intramural sports, find the recreation invigorating. Boys from all class levels combine for this evening activity.

Many sports-minded Manualites occupy much of their free time participating in intramural sports.

The girls' intramurals developed into intramural play this year with their volleyball, basketball, and track teams. Under the coaching of Mrs. Evelyn Potter and Miss Kathryn Lawrie the girls competed against other schools' teams and made a respectable showing.

Boys' intramurals efforts were on basketball. The "B" league consisted of freshmen and sophomores, and the juniors and seniors made up the "A" league. Teams in these groups competed against each other on Wednesday evenings.

Intramural players jump for the rebound during an intra-squad game.

Whole Manual Community Plays 'Batter Up' for Mr. Thrall

Manual's "top brass," Vice-principal E. Franklin Fisher, Principal Howard C. Thrall, and Vice-principal William T. Bess pose for the Ivian photographer.

The school year opened in September with Mr. Howard C. Thrall still at his job of the previous semester as acting principal. The entire faculty and a large number of students, their parents, alumni, and other patrons were concerned with the appointment which had been so long delayed.

During the summer many teachers attended Board meetings, and after the opening of school, students compiled large petitions and numerous letters to Dr. Stanley C. Campbell, Superintendent of Schools, and to the Board of Schools Commissioners telling of their confidence in Mr. Thrall's ability.

Finally during American Education Week in November his appointment was confirmed and Mr. Thrall became Manual's seventh principal. Mr. William T. Bess joined Manual's staff as a vice-principal.

Mr. Thrall's official appointment as principal by the Board of School Commissioners is celebrated by several members of his office staff "the morning after." Posing with "their boss" beneath the big sign that spread across the main office are Mrs. Hilda VanArsdale, Mrs. Vi Hauser, Mrs. Sandra Hignite, Mrs. Dorothea Frazee, Mr. Robert Dunn, Mr. Fred Jones, and Miss Charlotte Hafer.

Judy Steele Makes Small But Mighty President

Seniors readily accepted the responsibilities and privileges of their title, earned after three years of being "underclassmen."

October 28, Senior Day, saw the class of '72 in their fall finery and wearing the traditional armbands designed by Junior John Poteet in a Commercial Art Contest.

Activities began in home room with the reading of the Color Code explaining the class colors. The day's festivities ended with a party and dance in the cafeteria.

Many seniors were involved with Turnabout Day in which they took the role of "teachers."

"Senior Round-Up," a square dance April 14, was well-attended and as everyone agreed, "most fun of anything we've done all year."

The class of '72, piloted by President Judy Steele, closed the high school chapter of their lives with a gala Prom at the Med Center the night after graduation.

Guiding the Class of '72 were President Judy Steele, Secretary Vicky Ackerman, Treasurer Bill Hafer, and Vice-president Brenda Lewis. Working with Mr. Dennis Jackson, head Senior Sponsor, the Senior Council members, and the eight Home Room teachers, they kept the year's activities running smoothly.

Carol Williams pins on his senior armband for Rod Bruce as Jan Butler waits her turn. Armbands have been a tradition with Manual's senior classes for 64 years. They make their debut on Senior Day and are saved for wear on other senior activities days.

Girls Pilot Junior Class as 'Women's Lib' Takes Over

Junior Class officers, Secretary Debbie Welsh, Treasurer Karen Marcum, Vice-President Susie Moore, and President Lynn Janke meet to plan upcoming events.

"Women's Lib" hit Manual this year as more than 500 juniors voted all girls as their class officers.

This year's class, sponsored by Mr. Willard Henderson, was an active one. A junior boy served as editor-in-chief of the Booster while two junior girls act as co-editors of this Ivian. Two more busy juniors made up half of the "Exercise in Knowledge" team.

An annual event for each junior class is decorating the school's Christmas tree. Maschmeyer's Nursery donated this year's big spruce. After juniors had the tree sparkling with lights and baubles, they attended a party in the cafeteria where Santa Claus (Mr. Robert Hignite) was their guest.

March 8th saw class members dressed up for Junior Recognition Day. "Top Ten" Juniors were announced during an after-school program preceding the cafeteria party.

The Indiana University Medical Center hosted the Prom on May 6.

Juniors decorated Manual's Christmas tree which adorned the main entrance at the foot of the stairs during the week before Christmas. Here, it lends an atmosphere to the choir as they perform before school. During the week, all choral groups entertained Redskins in the morning.

the television of tomorrow: now taking shape in RCA's Indianapolis design center

Does a TV set really have to look like a box? ■ RCA thinks not. That's because RCA is "thinking tomorrow" in the video and audio products we're designing today for you, to buy tomorrow.

■ The Lounge Module shown at right, for example, is a self-

contained world

of entertainment. A rollaround lounge chair with two TV sets, FM-AM radio and 8-track stereo — all built in! ■ What looks like an ultra-modern lighting concept (left) is the Video Satellite. That spherical chrome ball actually contains a 5-inch diagonal TV screen!

■ RCA's commitment to design leadership is reflected in these and many other

"Generation III"

experimental design concepts now on display at the new RCA Design Center. Drawing on innovative shapes, materials and moods, this collection marks a dramatic departure in sight and sound electronics. ■

TIME FOR

IVIAN

And we staffers — Kathy Wakefield, Margaret Maxwell, Beth Mullen, Susie Hafer, Don Thompson, Marshall Wingler, Cathy Noe, Diann Newport, Tony Smith, Dave McAllister, and Pat Miller — loved putting it out. The time for this Ivian is forever!
